Today's Program:

TR Symposium, Michael Cullinane, DSU Theodore Roosevelt Studies chair

This week's program:

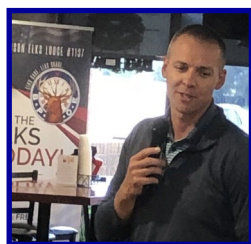

TR Symposium focus is conservation

In questions of land, law, water and the national parks, among others, the 19th TR Symposium looks to conservation and sustainability as two of the most important themes of President Theodore Roosevelt's time and ours. Our speaker, Dr. Michael Cullinane, chair of Theodore Roosevelt Studies at Dickinson State University, will speak about the annual symposium set for this week on the DSU campus and in the Theodore Roosevelt National Park area.

At last week's meeting:

President Kyle Smith gave an overview of our biggest fundraiser, the 13th annual Pancake Karnival breakfast, coming up on October 20 at the Eagles Club. He also asked for comments regarding programs and Rotary on the Road destinations. World Series fundraising boards will be available soon. Email him: kyle.smith@dickinsonstate.edu.

Community Kindness donation

Our Club collected $360 for the Dickinson Police Department's drug prevention/child safety program! Last week Deputy Chief Matthew Hanson explained the program and answered questions about public safety.

Thanks to Rotarian Linda Steve for this week's newsletter content!

BASIC EDUCATION AND LITERACY MONTH

"If you are planning for a year, sow rice; if you are planning for a decade, plant trees; if you are planning for a lifetime, educate people"

SEPTEMBER Rotary

September is Rotary Literacy Month

As part of our club's focus on literacy, each year we distribute dictionaries to third grade students in Dickinson, South Heart and Bel-field. Rotarian Deb Barros coordinates our club's literacy efforts and announced last week that this year's project will begin soon, with a variety of times and dates.

Today's Meeting:

Greeters: Mark Emmerich & Marya Skaare

Next Week: Buck Haas & Kyle Smith

Invocation: Guide us in our service. Keep us well so we can serve. And bless those who are touched by our works. AMEN

Coming up:

October 20: Pancake Karnival annual fundraiser breakfast at the Eagles Club; proceeds to eradicate polio worldwide.
