Today's Program

Rotary on the Road at All In Event Center, program by Dave Ouellette, owner

Last week:

Rotary Vocational Service Month

January is Vocational Service Month on the Rotary calendar and last week we brought back classification talks, when members tell about their professional and personal experiences. The talk is intended to help other members get to know the speaker and their contributions to the community.

Leading off, club secretary Kari Shea talked about the importance of Rotary for business contacts when she was with ND Vocational Rehabilitation in Dickinson. Now retired, she looks forward to meeting friends and networking at our weekly Rotary meetings.

Erv Bren, executive director at Community Action, shared his love for working: he works full time and also farms. Both shared how their contacts through Rotary helped them professionally, as well as provided them ways to use their professional skills in service to both our local community and to the world.

During Rotary International's Vocational Service Month, Rotarians are encouraged to focus on this important avenue of Rotary service. Discussions on vocational service can lead to projects that not only develop the ethical consciousness and vocational skills of Rotarians but also the talents within their communities. Today's Rotarians pride themselves on being able to use their professional stature and knowledge to make things happen worldwide, wherever there is a need for change.

This week: Rotary on the Road

This week's meeting will be "On the Road" at All In Event Center, the former Lady J's, 20 E. Broadway. Lunch will be served at noon.
